

FC Arizona How to Contact College Coaches

What type of contact? Initial contact should come through an email followed up with a phone call to confirm receipt of email. Further correspondence should include all avenues, including text messages and social media.

First contact-Keep it brief, stick to the academic and athletic highlights.

Follow up contact-Ask for feedback and how you might fit into the college soccer program's style and system.

Email-Include your academic and athletic highlights in bullet form and include your highlight link and your game schedule.

Phone Call-Introduce yourself and refer to your introductory email.

Text Message-Keeping in touch with brief, to the point, updates on your academics and game results.

Social Media-Liking and making positive comments are good. Be conscientious to not put anything negative or derogatory on your personal social media accounts. Everything connected to you will either promote you positively or negatively.
